Here's the completed outline from our “Cycle Indicator” Webinar

All of Trading Summarized in One Sentence:

“Always and Only Trade early in the Direction of the dominant direction of the Market.

Trading is not about having “certainty,” but about creating a statistical probability that puts the odds in YOUR favor.

No ONE Tool (indicator, candlestick pattern, moving average etc.) creates a probability scenario.

To create a probability scenario, we use 5 uncorrelated energies of money flow, and when they align (all bullish/bearish) at the same time, that puts the odds on your side.

Those 5 energies are:

1. The market direction (early in a new TREND)
2. That is strong (MOMENTUM)

3. At the right time (Cycle Indicator)
4. Bouncing off Support/Resistance
5. Confirmed by the bigger scale (Momentum on the Higher Time Frame Chart)

To effectively use a good cycle indicator we must do 2 things:

Use the right indicator and settings.

Be shown the trade trigger patterns.

Stochastic settings MUST BE MODIFIED to turn it into a Timing Indicator:

If your charting platform has “Stochastic Full,” use that.

If your charting platform doesn't have “Stochastic Full,” then use “Stochastic Slow”.

- Period %D: 3
- Period %K: 5
- Smooth: 2
- Lower horizontal line: 20
- Upper horizontal line: 80

HOW TO TRADE IT:

Our trade entry triggers occur when we get a “momentum shift” indicator pattern.

When %K hits 0, that is the most BEARISH momentum indication that the indicator is mathematically allowed to plot on the chart.

When %K hits 100, that is the most BULLISH momentum indication that the indicator is mathematically allowed to plot on the chart.

SUMMARY OF THE TRADING METHOD:

The Alignment Of The UNCORRELATED Energies Puts The Odds On Your Side:

1. The market direction (early in a new TREND)
2. That is strong (MOMENTUM)
3. At the right time (Cycle Indicator)
4. Bouncing off Support/Resistance
5. Confirmed by the bigger scale (Momentum on the Higher Time Frame Chart)

Because the method is based on “Energies” of money flow, it works on all markets (that have consistent professional participation) and it works for all time intervals.

It's a simple and objective scoring of the 5 energies of money flow.
